My ancestor's services in assisting in the establishment of American Independence during the War of the Revolution were as follows:

The patriotic response of Thomas Gordon to the Declaration of Independence was made on May 11, 1777, when he left his young wife Sarah Gordon and five year old son John at his home in Albermarle County, Virginia, and voluntarily enlisted in the Grayson 16th Virginia Continental Regiment for a period of three years. Thomas Gordon was assigned as a private soldier to the company commanded by Captain Cleon Moore, where he served two years. He participated in the battles of Brandywine on September 11, 1777, and Germentown on October 4, 1777, fought under personal direction of General Washington. The winter of 1777-1778 was passed at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, where the regiment was given military instruction and training under General Baron von Steuben.

With General Washington's army he spent the winter of 1778-1779 at Camp Middlebrook in Somerset County, New Jersey. Thomas Gordon was transferred to the company in the "1st Regiment" captained by Strother Jones. The records of the war department of the United States show that the name of Thomas Gordon last appeared upon payroll of Captain Strother Jones' company during the month of November 1779.

The tradition of Thomas Gordon, Junior family is to the effect that Private Thomas Gordon, and fourteen other Continental Soldiers, were captured by the British and held for some time as prisoners of war until rescued by the mounted American Forces. During this imprisonment their wrists were bound by green hickory switches which, when they hardened and dried upon their hands, cut deep wounds leaving scars as permanent reminders of their painful sufferings inflicted by the British Soldiers.
