Introduction

The experiences & histories presented in this — Family Book of genealogy are basic & factual from life itself & reflects the personal character & faith of the family.

In compiling this inf., all possible effort has been made to contact all members & encourage them to submit valuably material & histories — as in all activities, there are those who participate & those who are more or less passive, & some unable to locate

I am most grateful to all for their efforts & patience in helping make this book as complete as possible at this time another printing later history ~~reveals~~ reveals this family ~~and~~ ^{to be} predominately men of C. & J. C. L. Saints. commonly known as Mormon & that they follow this doctrine in their lives & beliefs. The fact that this relig. - faith has helped sustain these people during their growth period & that it is ever an increasing influence for good in their lives, can only serve as evidence that it is a fine & effective religion (By their fruits ye shall know them).

232 I believe that their test, speak for ~~themselves~~ themselves & reflect a divine pattern for life, with a true understanding of the meaning of life, here, & hereafter, as our Creator the Heavenly Father has marked out for his obedient children, unspelled anywhere in the world.

Our common ancestor — was a very early convert to the M. Church. He was called to the divine priesthood & from his faithfulness & devotion to the faith he embraced, leaves to his descendants the priceless heritage we enjoy.

It is not generally conceded that the inherent qualities & the inherent character of the progeny prove superior to their ancestors. May we each reflect on the true values of life, the value of family ties, & blood lines, & be most grateful to have forefathers such as ours.

I now make this presentation, & trust & pray the work herein enclosed will prove to be an accurate & valuable record for the descendants of our — and a source of pleasure & information to all who read it.

This person is a shining example to all who know him. He radiates the light of the Gospel in his role as father, husband, friend, and priesthood leader. He brings much joy into the lives of others & especially those in need of his special talents. His influence & love are strongly felt by everyone whose life he touches and whom he so willingly serves.

Because he is so devoted to the Gospel & his desire to follow in the foot steps of our beloved Savior, he takes his responsibilities to heart, and works endless hours in the wards behalf.

He has influenced my life in many positive ways, always responding to the cry of "help" in a patient, loving, & happy manner. He has a beautiful special spirit & I love to ~~admire~~ ^{admire} his gentle way of teaching me patience & positive thinking & feel the ward is lucky to have him.

This person is an inspiration to me & I feel privileged to be able to 243 call him + his family my friends.

He isn't called Super man - but ~~he sure is a~~ ~~Super man~~. To those who know + love him he is a Super man
